Record of Success

In the past decade, FLP has trained more than 240 financial leaders, who are now successfully employed at 56 financial institutions worldwide. After completing the program, nearly all FLP participants have received offers for front-office positions in top analyst programs across Wall Street and Fortune 500 companies.

FLP alumni have careers in investment banking, sales and trading, equity research, asset management, credit risk, treasury services, global finance, public finance, wealth management, and compliance and regulations.

ABOUT STARR @ BARUCH COLLEGE As the primary provider of career services for more than 15,000 Baruch College undergraduates, the Starr Career Development Center (SCDC) shares the College’s mission to be a “catalyst for the social, cultural, and financial mobility of a diverse student body.” The Center’s career-related counseling, workshops, and leadership-development programs help students clarify academic and professional goals, establish career plans, develop job-search skills, and make successful career transitions. SCDC also builds relationships with alumni and employers to foster internships, jobs, and career opportunities that give students the grounding they need to become respected leaders in their chosen fields.

For more information, visit: baruch.cuny.edu/careers
Or contact:
Phone: 646.312.4670
Fax: 646.312.4671
Email: careerdc@baruch.cuny.edu
The Financial Leadership Program (FLP) at Baruch College is dedicated to the professional development and advancement of high-potential juniors interested in careers in finance. FLP’s focused curriculum helps students master the mechanics of the financial services industry.

Sponsored by the Starr Career Development Center, FLP is one of the College’s premier leadership and professional-development programs, targeting a range of professional roles, including:

- Investment Banking
- Treasury Services
- Credit and Market Risk
- Sales and Trading
- Asset Management
- Compliance
- Investment Banking
- Treasury Services
- Credit and Market Risk
- Sales and Trading
- Asset Management
- Compliance

“While there are many perks that FLP has to offer, the experience as a whole is unparalleled. You will never find a college environment with the same perfect combination of rigor, support, and legacy as the Financial Leadership Program.”

— Timothy Diep (Finance ’18), FLP Cohort 2016-17

What does FLP offer?

- Coaching and development of solid interviewing skills
- Deep understanding of the financial market structure
- Training, seminars, and team project assignments to enhance public speaking, business writing, and presentations skills required in the financial industry
- Mastery of the mechanics of financial technology via intensive training in corporate valuation and Excel modeling
- Coaching and support in networking activities, mentoring relationships, personal branding, resume refinement, LinkedIn profile, finance definitions, business vernacular, and soft skills (i.e., mock interviews, dining etiquette, proper attire, personal appearance, interview protocol, and body language)
- Leadership training, including team building and community service activities
- Personalized one-on-one coaching addressing personal habits or issues that may impede success
- Corporate office visits to meet company executives and gain a clear understanding of various corporate cultures and the anatomy of organizational structure
- On-campus corporate executive presentations on the internal operation of business lines including equity research, fixed income, investment banking, sales and trading, macroeconomic updates, real estate as an asset class, and best practices