MAX BERGER PRE-LAW LSAT REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM

In keeping with Max Berger's vision to support pre-law students by easing the financial barriers that keep many applicants from effectively preparing for the LSAT, we proudly present the Max Berger Pre-Law LSAT Reimbursement Program.

A strong LSAT score is vital in the successful application to any law school. However, preparation can be a costly pursuit. The Max Berger Pre-Law LSAT Reimbursement Program serves to offset this expense to current students and recent graduates by generously offering up to $2,000 reimbursement.

*The Max Berger Pre-Law LSAT Reimbursement Program provides financial assistance to current Baruch College undergraduate students and recent graduates (from the class of 2016+) that have taken a commercial LSAT preparation course. Preference will be given to students that have actively participated in Baruch's pre-law programs and are not otherwise receiving ongoing institutional scholarship assistance and who have not previously been awarded this Reimbursement.

Eligibility:

- Open to all majors
- Overall GPA of 3.0 or above
- Currently enrolled Baruch College undergraduate student or recent graduate from the class of 2016+
- Applicant must obtain an LSAT score of 158 or above after taking a commercial LSAT preparation course (and must submit reimbursement application within 60 days receiving score from LSAC)
- Applicant incurs expense and successfully completes LSAT preparation course within a 12 to 18 month period of such expense

Application Documentation Required:

- Unofficial transcript reflecting current GPA (for current students) or GPA at graduation (for graduates)
- Print out from LSAC with LSAT score reflecting a score of 158 or above
- Receipt from LSAT preparation course noting price paid by applicant (i.e. credit card statement) and substantiating document supporting successful completion of course (i.e. letter confirming successful completion of course)
- Release of LSAT scores and application information to Baruch Pre-Law Advisor when registering with the Law School Admissions Council and the Credential Assembly Service
- Complete Scholarship Reimbursement Application Form

Application Instructions: Complete the entire application with all required documents noted above and forward via e-mail to:

Tina G. Coco, Esq.

* Please Note: Successful application for reimbursement is not guaranteed as funds for the program are limited, therefore students are advised not to be wholly dependent on this program and participate in LSAT preparation programs that are otherwise affordable to them.
