7. What is a Zero-Credit Internship?
8. What are some common issues that come up regarding interns?

1. How Do Internships Benefit Employers?

Our internship program provides the employer with a cost-effective means of recruiting qualified students. Employers have the opportunity to train and evaluate students before making full-time employment decisions. Likewise, the recruiting process itself becomes more simplified since many companies choose to hire students who have interned with them.

Internships benefit employers by: Providing employers with a supply of talented, well-trained staff; Reducing recruiting and training costs; Freeing experienced personnel from time-consuming but necessary tasks; Keeping the employer in touch with cutting-edge developments in the field; Enhancing the employer's image on campus; Allowing the employer to have a role in the professional training of new staff.

2. What are the general guidelines for posting internships?

Internships differ from part-time jobs in that employers are committed to providing training related to the student's studies. In order to post an internship, you will need to log in to Starr Search; it is then posted in our database, which is only accessible to Baruch College students. Students will then submit their applications or resumes to you.

In general, as an internship employer, you are responsible for:

- Providing Baruch students with a pre-professional experience in an environment conducive to their growth and learning
- Defining students' specific roles and responsibilities within your company
- Offering training, supervision, and evaluation for the student during the internship

General Guidelines for Internships:

According to the National Association for Colleges and Employers, in their NACE Position Statement on U.S. Internships (7/2011):

Criteria for an Experience to Be Defined as an Internship

To ensure that an experience—whether it is a traditional internship or one conducted remotely or virtually—is educational, and thus eligible to be considered a legitimate internship by the NACE definition, all the following criteria must be met:

1. The experience must be an extension of the classroom: a learning experience that provides for applying the knowledge gained in the classroom. It must not be simply to advance the operations of the employer or be the work that a regular employee would routinely perform.
2. The skills or knowledge learned must be transferable to other employment settings.
3. The experience has a defined beginning and end, and a job description with desired qualifications.
4. There are clearly defined learning objectives/goals related to the professional goals of the student's academic coursework.
5. There is supervision by a professional with expertise and educational and/or professional background in the field of the experience.
6. There is routine feedback by the experienced supervisor.
7. There are resources, equipment, and facilities provided by the host employer that support learning objectives/goals.

If these criteria are followed, it is the opinion of NACE that the experience can be considered a legitimate internship.

Posting Unpaid Internships

Career services professionals should monitor positions posted through their career centers to see that they follow the NACE definition and criteria articulated in this paper. This is particularly important for unpaid internships, as allowing an unpaid internship to be posted implies approval of the internship. Therefore, career centers should not post any unpaid internships that do not meet the seven criteria set forth above.

Academic Credit

While academic credit legitimizes an unpaid experience, in order to be identified as an internship, that experience must fit the criteria. For experiences that employers make available only if academic credit is awarded, the college or university's requirements in combination with the criteria laid out in this paper should be used to determine if the experience is a legitimate internship.

For more information, see the NACE Position Statement on U.S. Internships on the Terms of Use page on our site.

3. What are the guidelines for posting unpaid internships?

In order to avoid violating minimum wage laws, for-profit companies should be able to show that unpaid interns will be "trainees" rather than employees. The U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) has developed six criteria for differentiating between an employee entitled to minimum wage and a learner/trainee who, while an employee, may be unpaid. The criteria are:

- The training, although it includes actual operation of the facilities of the employer, is similar to that which would be given in a vocational school.
- The training is for the benefit of the students.
- The students do not displace regular employees, but work under the close observation of a regular employee or supervisor.
- The employer provides the training and derives no immediate advantage from the activities of students, and, on occasion, the operations may actually be impeded by the training.
- The students are not necessarily entitled to a job at the conclusion of the training period.

- The employer and the student understand that the student is not entitled to wages for the time spent in training.

Students who work without pay cannot be considered “volunteers” unless they are working for a nonprofit, charitable or humanitarian organization (i.e. not a for-profit).

Please also note, unpaid internships should be structured as part-time (10-15 hours per week).

One way many companies use to show that interns are “trainees” is to ask the students to obtain college credit for the internship (see below).

4. What are the guidelines for students to obtain college credit for an internship at Baruch College?

If your company requires students to obtain college credit for an internship, please keep in mind that each academic department at Baruch College determines which types of internships are considered worthy of college credit. A list of internship courses offered at Baruch can be found below.

IMPORTANT NOTE! If you are offering a student an internship for credit during the summer, students will have to pay between $170 and $1,080 to receive credit for their internship. Please keep this in mind when offering a student a credit-required internship during the summer.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR COLLEGE CREDIT BEARING INTERNSHIPS AT BARUCH

QUALITY OF WORK: In general, professors will not give college credit for an internship if it is more than 50% administrative work or telemarketing/"cold calling." Therefore, if your position is mostly administrative, we recommend paying at least the minimum wage (\$15.00 per hour as of December 31, 2018) for the position. If you are sure the position must be unpaid, please ensure your internship description can demonstrate how the students' learning experience will relate to their studies at Baruch (see below for a list of internship courses offered at Baruch).

DEADLINE: Students should be aware that there are deadlines for registering for the internship course. After this deadline, students may be able to register for credit at the discretion of the professor in their department and the Office of the Registrar.

HOURS: Internships for credit are typically 10-15 hours per week for 12-15 weeks during the school year. Paid internships for credit can be up to 20 hours per week during the school year. Internships for credit can be full-time in summer. Unpaid internships should be structured as part-time.

If you have questions, please contact the Internship Manager at michael.kalish@baruch.cuny.edu.

5. What do I, as an employer, need to do so that a student can obtain college credit?

1. First, read the specific employer requirements below and write an internship description that fits one of the course descriptions if possible.
2. Second, if you hire a Baruch student, provide the student with a letter stating that you are offering him/her an internship and note what he/she will learn as it relates to his/her major. Some professors may ask you to fill out a "learning agreement" as well.
3. Third, the student will ask their professor for permission to register for course credit, and will register and pay tuition for the course.
4. Fourth, while the student works for you, ensure that their internship provides a learning experience. Most students will write a journal of what they are learning and submit it to their professor.
5. Lastly, at the end of the internship, some professors may wish to have you fill out an evaluation of the student's work.

6. What are the specific internship courses offered at Baruch College?

If you are interested in offering an internship for college credit, please read the Employer Requirements below.

Please note the Prerequisites for Students; this will limit the type of students who can perform your credit-bearing internship.

Also note, the decision of whether to grant a student credit for an internship is at the sole discretion of faculty; the descriptions below are general guidelines for internship credit.

Many professors will not allow an internship to be taken for college credit if it is more than 50% administrative work or telemarketing/"cold calling."

7. What is a Zero-Credit Internship?

ZERO-CREDIT INTERNSHIP COURSE: INTRODUCTION TO THE WORKPLACE

Course Description:

The Zero-Credit Internship Course allows students to accept internships that require college approval. It is intended to be the first step toward the development of skills and attitudes that lead to satisfying careers. Starr's Internship Manager approves the internship prior to enrollment in the course and supervises the students who reflect on their experiences in journal entries and in workshops organized by Starr. Students who participate in the Zero-Credit Internship Course will receive Transcript Notation (TN) after successful completion.

Transcript Notation:

The Zero-Credit Internship Course provides official college recognition on student transcripts through Transcript Notation (TN). Students will receive a 'notation' on their official Baruch College transcript documenting the internship experience upon successful completion.

Employer Instructions and Timeline:

1. Find a Baruch student to complete an internship at your organization.
 - a. To be eligible for Transcript Notation, your student intern must:
 - i. Have a minimum of 28 credits and not have been admitted into any Baruch school: Zicklin, Weissman, or Marxe.
 - ii. Have a minimum GPA of 3.0
 - iii. Not require work visa sponsorship now or in the future
 - iv. Obtain an official internship offer from your organization
 - v. Receive approval from Baruch's Zero-Credit Internship Manager at Starr
2. Establish the number of hours your student intern will work.
 - a. See chart below:

Fall & Spring Semester
Course Load	Hours of Internship Work
12 credits or less	Up to 20 hours per week
15 credits	Up to 15 hours per week
18 or more credits	Permission will not be granted

*During Summer or Winter sessions, students may work additional hours if they are not taking classes.

3. Sign and complete the internship agreement and send it to the Zero-Credit Internship Manager:
Catherine Law
catherine.law@baruch.cuny.edu
4. Establish goals and learning objectives with your student intern.
5. Provide supervision and feedback to your student intern.
6. Submit an intern evaluation to Catherine Law at the end of the internship.

8. What are some common issues that come up regarding interns?

Q. When are students available to intern?

A. Students are available to work throughout the year.

Q. How do I post my internship?

A. Our job and internship opportunities are posted on our online system, Starr Search. Employers have the opportunity to register with us for FREE and have control to post their listings when they would like. All they have to do is log onto: [<http://www.baruch.cuny.edu/careers/employers/index.htm>] – On this page, there will be extensive information on posting positions.

Q. What are the policies for hosting an internship?

A. Please see [Terms of Use for Employers]

Q. How many hours should my intern work?

A. See [Hours of Internship Chart]

Q. Can interns get paid?

A. The internship can be paid or non-paid. Transcript notation is not a substitute for pay.

Q. What is transcript notation?

A. Transcript Notation is official college recognition and documentation on a student's transcript of their internship completion.

Q. What steps should I take if my intern does not meet expectations? (Lateness, missing work, excessive absence, etc.)

A. Begin by personally addressing the issues/concerns with the intern. If the meeting fails to ameliorate the situation, contact the Internship Manager: Michael Kalish, Michael.Kalish@baruch.cuny.edu.

BUSINESS INTERNSHIPS

Accounting Internship

Number of Credits: Between 1 and 3.

Minimum Hours: 10 per week; maximum hours are 15 per week for unpaid internships and 20 for paid, or full time for paid summer internships.

Prerequisite for Students: Admission to the Zicklin School of Business/Junior Status

Course Description: “Coordinated and supervised internship in accounting. Students will work in accounting positions in the accounting functions of commercial and public organizations. Each student will receive work assignments similar to the day-to-day assignments of full-time accountants in the organization.”

Website: <http://zicklin.baruch.cuny.edu/faculty/accountancy/resources/internships.html/> Employer

Requirements: Appropriate internship experience includes any ‘real world’ opportunity to apply a student’s educational background in financial statement preparation and analysis, risk analysis, budgeting, investment appraisal, standard costing, internal and external auditing, specialized tax research, etc. An internship that consists of predominantly clerical or secretarial work would not meet the qualified internship requirements.

The employer agrees to: Designate an individual to supervise the student and serve as a liaison between the employer and the designated Internship Coordinator in Baruch’s Accountancy Department; provide a written description of intern responsibilities; provide training experience and assist the student in structuring and fulfilling his/her learning and performance objectives, and complete the “Employer Data and Evaluation of Interns Performance Form,” and submit it to the Internship Coordinator before the end of the college semester.

Learning Contract: Both the employer and the student must sign the contract to signify compliance with the requirements for course credits. In addition, the employer is expected to give reasonable access to information, interviews, and any records, that will allow the student to complete their educational requirements. At the end of the internship, both the employer, and the student, must provide separate questionnaire evaluations of the internship experience.

Computer Information Systems Internship

Number of Credits: Between 1 and 3.

Minimum Hours: 135-180 hours per semester

Prerequisites for Students: Admission to Zicklin School of Business/Junior Status

Course Description: “A work-study/training program for students majoring in computer information systems. Students will work with approved organizations engaged in the various facets of information systems where they can gain practical experience in the field.”

Employer Requirements: 1. Employers are required to use the course website, <http://cisnet.baruch.cuny.edu/ma/internship> to verify the internship applications submitted by intern students. 2. Employers are required to designate an employee to be the mentor for the intern student, and the mentor is required to use the course web site to manage the internship throughout the semester. For business 3001/3003, students must work a minimum of 135 hours for the entire semester. For CIS 5900, students must work a minimum of 180 hours for entire semester. Work hours per week will be mutually determined by employer and student. Students are required to submit internship objective statements, which need to be endorsed by mentors. Mentors are required to submit semester and performance evaluations electronically through the website.

Economics or Finance

Credits: 1-3

Minimum Hours: 10-20 work hours per week

Prerequisites for Students: Admission to Zicklin School of Business/Junior Status

Course Description: “Students work under supervision in cooperating agencies, trade associations, private finance, and research organizations. Students are required to prepare a term report analyzing the economic problems of interest to the organization to which they are assigned. This report, as well as demonstrated job accomplishments and attitude, will form the basis for rating the student.”

Employer Requirements: All internships must have an academic component that is specified prior to the student’s enrollment. A contract must be in hand from the employer to verify the duties of the intern.

The employer needs to provide several documents:

When the student is offered an internship, the employer must provide two documents:

1. A written "Offer of Employment" Letter.

This should include:

- The student's supervisor's name, title, and phone number

- The firm's name and mailing address
- The start and end dates of the internship
- The number of hours per week
- If paid, the rate of pay
- A brief description of the responsibilities and duties of the intern. These duties shall not include any cold calling, and are not to be confined to administrative and clerical work.

2. The "Internship Agreement" form outlines the various responsibilities of your employer, the College, and the student intern.

To download the form, visit: <http://zicklin.baruch.cuny.edu/faculty/economics/downloads/form-3-internship-agreement.pdf>

Note that the Internship Agreement requires three signatures:

1. The student's. By signing this Agreement, the student agrees to follow all of the requirements of the internship.
2. The internship supervisor's. By signing, he or she agrees to abide by the terms of the Agreement.
3. The Faculty Internship Coordinator's. He or she will sign after you and your employer have already signed it.

At the end of the internship, the employer must provide an evaluation (visit <http://zicklin.baruch.cuny.edu/faculty/economics/downloads/form-7-employer-s-evaluation.pdf>) of the student's experience to the academic coordinator.

Employers will be notified that interns for the Fall semester should be hired no later than the third week of September. Employers must understand that it often takes students two to three weeks to complete the academic registration process and the last date to register is in the third week of September.

Management & HR Internship

Credits: 1-3

Minimum Hours: 100 hours per internship

Prerequisites for Students: Admission to Zicklin School of Business/Junior status

Website: <http://zicklin.baruch.cuny.edu/faculty/management/resources/intern/instructions/>

Course Description: "Internship fields include human resource management, operations management, and entrepreneurship. Each student will submit a report covering the nature of the work accomplished and the lessons learned."

Employer Requirements: Professor may require a letter confirming that the intern has completed his/ her scheduled assignment; student works minimum 100 hours per internship. For MGT 5110: Completion of an evaluation form; student must work 8- 10 hours/week (minimum).

Marketing Internship

Credits: 1-3

Minimum Hours: 12 hours per week
